

Ashish John Archer

Assistant Professor (Missiology and History of Christianity)

ashish.john.archer@gmail.com

Ashish hails from Gonda, Uttar Pradesh. He is an ordained minister in the Church of North India and was engaged in pastoral ministry for 6 years (2010-2014, 2016-2018) in the CNI diocese of Lucknow. He did his Masters in English literature in 2004, his BD from Bishop's College in the year 2010, Masters in Missiology in 2016 from United Theological College, Bengaluru. He is currently pursuing his doctoral studies. His academic interests include Intercultural Theology, Intercultural engagements in religion, art and architecture, alternate mission histories etc. He is currently serving as Assistant Professor in the department of Missiology and History of Christianity at Bishop's college and visiting faculty in Serampore College.

Published Works

- “A Post-Colonial Reading of the Great Commission in Matthew 28:16-20” in Indian Journal of Theology Vol. 64:2 (2022)
- “Paradigm Shifts and Development in Pentecostal Missiology” in Bangalore Theological Forum Vol. LIII/02 (December 2021)
- Emergence of Assembly of Believer's Church and its Missiological Implications (Delhi: Christian World Imprints, 2021).
- “Women in Mission: Towards a Her-Story of Mission” in NCC Review Vol. CXL/02 (March 2020).
- “The Status of Women in Islam” in Sandeshharika Vol. 6 (April 2019)
- Published A Sermon entitled “The Riddle of Genuine Religion: Remembering Ambedkar” to mark the 128th birth anniversary of Dr. B. R. Ambedkar on Sunday, 14th April 2019 at <https://ncci1914.com/7002/2019/04/12/nccinews/>